P R E F A C E.

THE Coins enumerated in the present Catalogue, comprise the entire Cabinet of the late GENERAL AINSLIE; whose knowledge, zeal, affability, and long residence in France, procured for him facilities of forming the choicest and most extensive collection of Anglo-French Coins ever before made. The interest and beauty of these rare and curious relics of days long past, will be appreciated by all lovers of Numismatic Science, and especially by those of our own country, as bringing back to their recollection one of the most splendid periods in English History.

Many of the Specimens are singularly fine in condition, and of extreme rarity. Some are only known in this Cabinet, as will appear by reference to General Ainslie's "Illustrations of the Anglo-French Coinage," published by Mr. Hearne, Strand, in 1830.
